WELCOME TO LOS CABOS

Los Cabos is located at the end of the Baja California Sur, which is the Mexican Península that extends from the Pacífico Ocean to the Sea of Cortés.

It is a desert surrounded by water, with two of the main coastal tourist cities in México Cabo San Lucas y San José del Cabo.

One of the most impressive things about Cabos and Baja California is that behind those beach lines you can find one of the most beautiful deserts in Mexico, thousands upon thousands of kilometers of cacti and plants, a unique feature difficult to find anywhere else in the world.

There are different ways to visit the desert surrounding Los Cabos, the most fun being the all-terrain vehicles.

Another iconic place to visit is the National Park Cabo Pulmo, one of the best reserved marine areas of the Sea of Cortez, definitely a wonderful place for Scuba Diving.

Cabo Pulmo is a very special place, a village surrounded by wood and palm palapas in which 20 families formerly lived off fishing, now they live of the sport of scuba diving since it was declared a national park.

San José del Cabo is a city you must visit; in the past it used to be a little fisherman´s town.

Currently the most cosmopolitan city of Baja California it´s atmosphere full with colors, the historic town is surrounded by trendy streets with stores and art galleries.

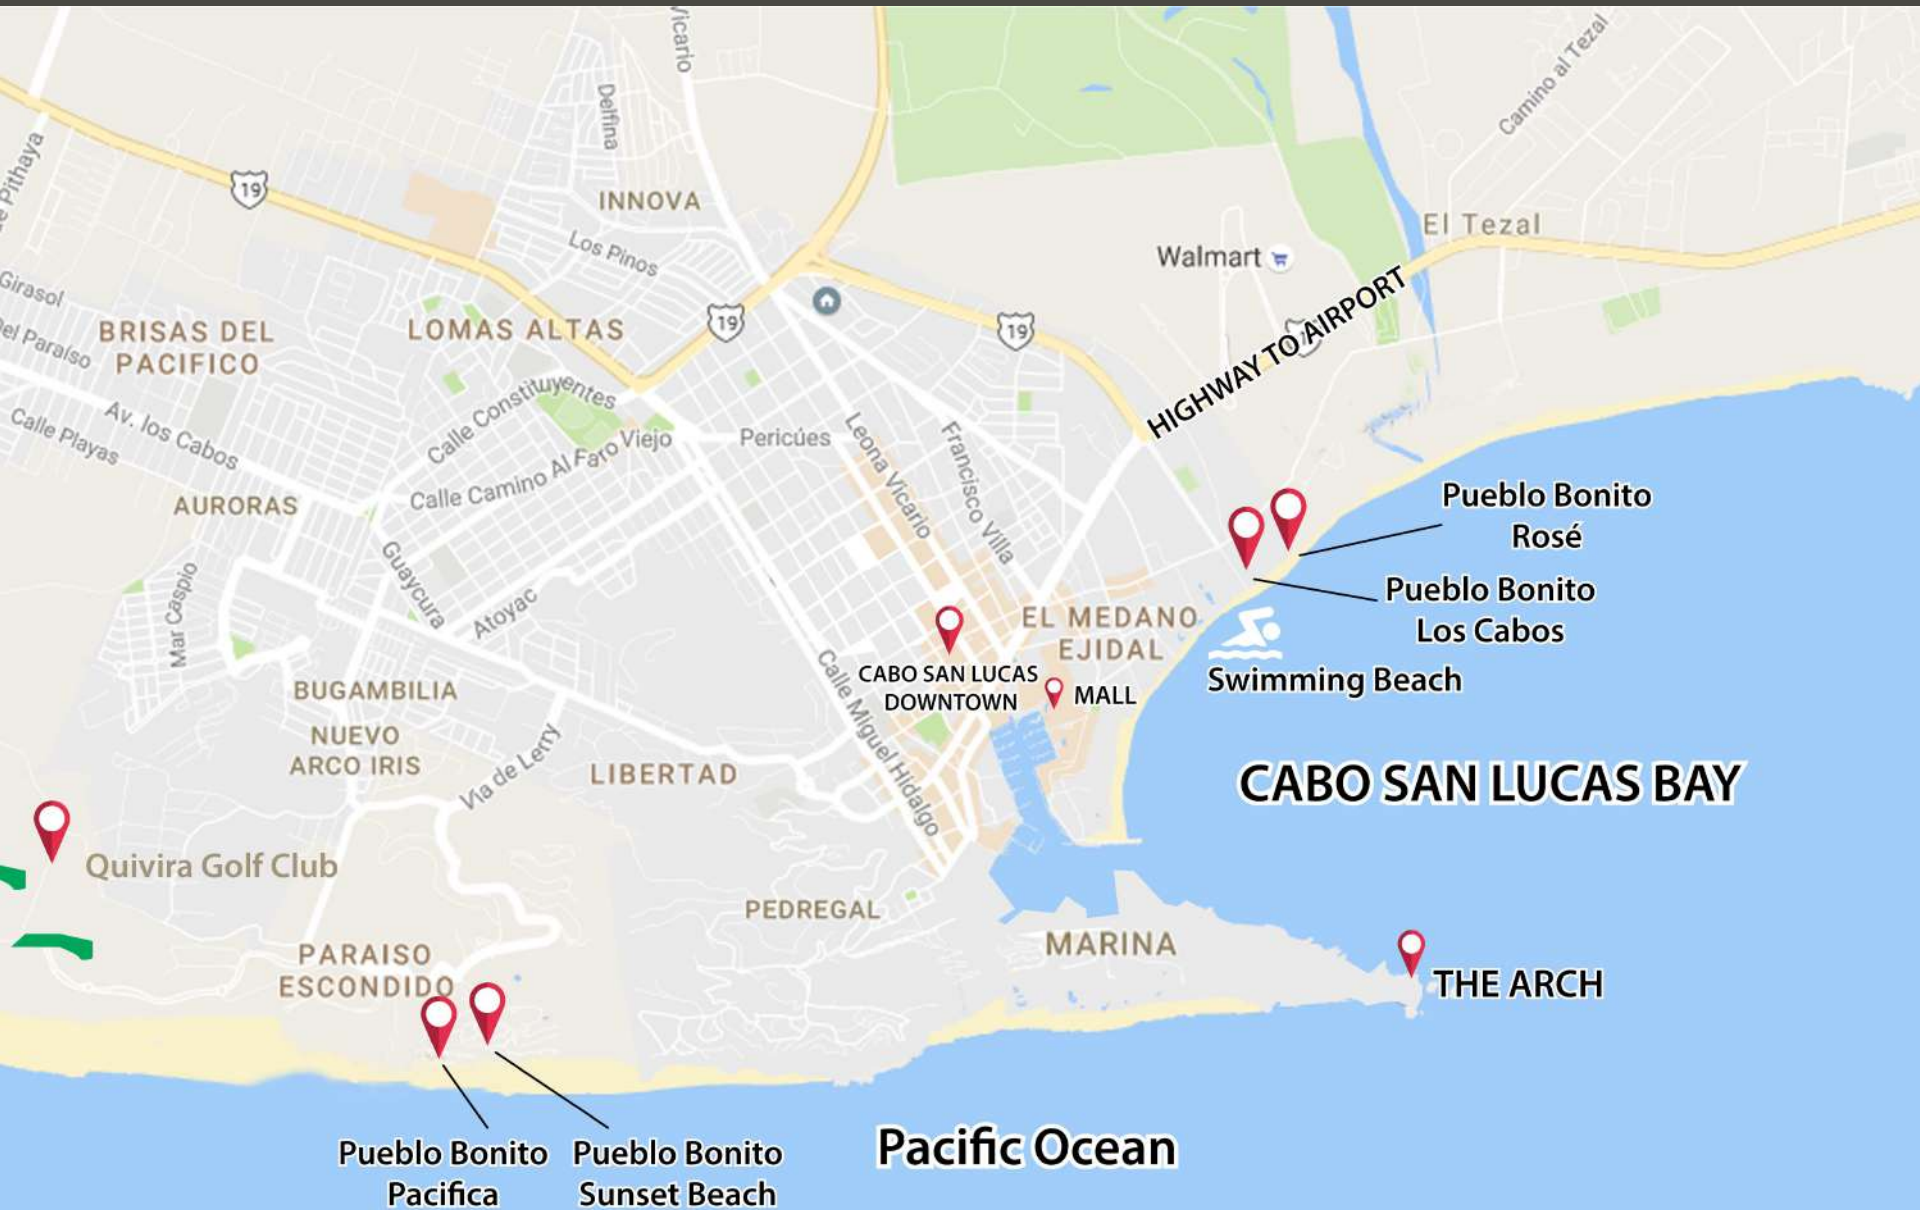

Los Cabos is also known as the most Cosmopolitan corridor in Mexico; due to the rich and varied gastronomic; which is made with fresh and organic ingredients some of them produced in the region.

In local kitchen, dishes based on fish and sea food predominate, such as tuna, marlin, shrimp, but you will also find cuts of beef, pork and lamb. Los Cabos offers a true culinary adventure. Currently its cuisine, like the Mexican and other countries of the world, is evolving and experimenting with other techniques and flavors. Creating an international culinary trend known as Mex-Fresh cuisine or Baja style cooking.

Delight yourself with the dishes of our regional cuisine, but do not forget to try the new proposals of its contemporary cuisine inspired by traditional cooking recipes which conquers the most demanding palates with its delicious fusion of flavors. For suggestions in restaurants please don't hesitate to ask us.
